15 Memorable and Most-Viewed Posts on Booooooom in 2017

I was looking back at the 100 most popular posts from this past year and selected 15 of them to highlight here. It’s always interesting to me when certain posts I think will get shared a lot don’t really connect with anyone, and even more fascinating when the reverse happens. I thought my interview with James Jean about his film posters for Blade Runner 2049, mother! and The Shape of Water would get shared a bit, but it exploded when Guillermo del Toro tweeted about it.

Two of our most-read articles were Editor Picks highlighting the work of Brooke DiDonato and Cody Cobb. Editor Picks are pulled directly out of what’s submitted to us by our members so that should be incentive for all of you to submit work to us! People wanna see what you’re making!
