99% off! – Pay just $29 for The Designer’s Typography Selection

I know my readers love a good fonts bundle, so I’m excited to share the news about the latest deal from Design Cuts. For a limited time you can get your hands on 16 professional font families for just $29, giving you an unbelievable 99% saving of over $2800! The fonts included are top quality too, they are all best-sellers at their full price, which is more than the $29 sale price of the entire bundle. Each one comes with multiple weights, extensive language support and loads of contextual alternates, which sets them apart from the bog-standard free fonts you can find on the web. To round off this fantastic deal, you also get extended licensing and free web fonts so you can safely use these fonts in all your design projects.

There’s an impressive variety of font styles in The Definitive Designer’s Typography Selection, giving you a complete library of typefaces in just one purchase. This is particularly good for anyone just starting out, as it provides a thorough selection of premium fonts that can be used in any kind of design project. What's more, the discounted price is unbelievable, saving a massive 99% off the total value, with web fonts and extended licenses even included at no extra cost.

These fonts will last you your entire design career, but the offer won't be around for long. I receive a lot of emails about the deals I share with my readers a fews days after they've expired, from people who left it too late and missed out. At 99% off this is an insane deal so I’d highly recommend you pick it up while you can!
