Junior UX / Product Designer / Full Time / Paid
London UK

https://www.allofus.com/

AllofUs are looking to meet talented young Designers to join our team in London. You could be straight out of school with a couple of internships under your belt or maybe you're already in the industry.

Role Details

We're looking for people who see design as a powerful tool for framing and solving all kinds of customer and business problems and have an equal passion for design thinking and making to learn.

If all this sounds interesting, please submit a portfolio / work samples and your availability to careers@allofus.com.

Skill/Attributes Required

You are:

– Equally passionate about crafting intricate interactions as well as big picture thinking

– Driven by deep empathy and insatiable curiosity;

– Someone with a deep passion for shaping the why as well as the how, using design thinking as a powerful tool for problem framing and solving;

– Methodical, yet experimental, a maker and breaker of process;
