Alphabet Revenue Soared 62% to Hit $61.9 Billion in Q2

Over the last three months, the world’s biggest digital advertiser brought in more than $560 million in advertising revenue every day. Google’s $50.4 billion ad haul is the lion’s share of parent company Alphabet’s $61.9 billion in revenue for the just-completed Q2.

Recommended articles
https://www.adweek.com/programmatic/alphabet-revenue-soared-62-to-hit-61-9-billion-in-q2/