(AU) Victorian Design Challenge 2018

Calling Victorian designers and design businesses—have you ever wanted to be part of something bigger?

The Victorian Design Challenge invites Victorian designers to form multi-disciplinary teams with professionals from other sectors to apply design in targeting a real-world problem. Each year, the Victorian Design Challenge will join forces with a Challenge Partner and focus on a relevant theme that addresses a pressing social or environmental need.

For 2018 The NGV is partnering with VicHealth to set the theme of the Challenge asking designers to form teams to respond to the Challenge question:

How might we increase the resilience of today's young people?

A prize of $30,000 will be awarded to one winning team to help fund further development and prototyping of their design.

Learn more and register

Stage One submissions due 7 March 2018

(AU) Victorian Design Challenge 2018