Beats Studio Buds Plus are matching their record low with $50 off

We’re still awaiting a new pair of Powerbeats Pro to drop sometime this year, but if you’re a Beats fan in need of a solid pair of wireless earbuds to bridge the gap, you’re in luck. The Beats Studio Buds Plus are on sale for their all-time low of price of $119.99 (about $50 off) right now at Amazon, Best Buy, and Target. The discount applies to all available colors, including the attractive see-through pair we’ve fallen in love with over the last year.

The Beats Studio Buds Plus sound noticeably better than the original pair and we’ve found even rival the AirPods Pro for music. Their noise cancellation is also better than their predecessor, but falls short of the AirPods Pro. Those are minor gripes considering the lower price. They’re lacking some tricks compared to Apple’s top earbuds, such as spatial audio head-tracking and automatic device switching. That said, they’re a solid pair if you use both iOS and Android devices, as the Studio Buds Plus support native Find My and fast pairing options across both ecosystems.
