(BNE) TDC Open House: Josephmark

In conjunction with The Design Conference, global design studio and venture lab Josephmark are putting on a panel to convince any and all graphic designers to transition to digital product design.

If you enjoy designing and problem solving, there’s a whole world of opportunities outside of graphic design. Whether that’s designing algorithms and interfaceless UI or micro-interactions and mixed reality experiences. It’s still design, it’s just exploring other ways of the industry you hold so dear. Can they convince you? Come and find out.
