

Câpsula Unveils Premium Tiny Houses Designed for Slow Living and Sustainable Luxury

Amsterdam, March 2025 – Dutch design studio i29 has launched Câpsula, a new line of premium tiny houses that redefines minimalist living with maximum impact. This innovative collection introduces a new standard of sustainable luxury through compact, beautifully crafted architecture aimed at enhancing quality of life.

Created by the award-winning architects at i29, Câpsula tiny homes are designed to inspire slower, more intentional lifestyles without compromising on comfort or design. Each model in the growing collection is a fully functional dwelling built around the philosophy of “less is more,” encouraging a deep connection with nature and a simpler way of living.

Tiny Homes with Big Vision

The current Câpsula collection includes three distinct models:

- Soft Lodge – A versatile 25 m² unit (expandable to 50 m²) with double terraces and a striking mirrored facade. This model offers a seamless indoor-outdoor living experience, designed to reconnect inhabitants with the natural world.
- Writer's Block Hut – At just 10 m², this creative sanctuary is a minimalist marvel built to boost mental clarity and spark inspiration. Large windows and a clean interior layout make it ideal for writers, artists, and thinkers in search of focus.
- Tiny Holiday Home – A cleverly organized 50 m² retreat that comfortably houses a family of four. Its modular volumes and large sliding doors bring in panoramic views, while the smart layout ensures every square meter is used to its fullest.

Sustainable, Flexible, and Made in the Netherlands

All Câpsula homes are designed with local production, sustainable materials, and flexibility in mind. From zip-on curtains that transform the Soft Lodge into a multi-bedroom home, to the inside-out architecture of the Tiny Holiday Home, each detail is engineered for adaptability and well-being.

These premium tiny houses are ideal for nature lovers, digital nomads, or families seeking a sustainable getaway. With a small environmental footprint and a big emphasis on quality, Câpsula offers a refreshing alternative to traditional housing and vacation homes.

About Câpsula

Câpsula by i29 architects combines Dutch design excellence with innovative architecture to promote a more mindful and minimalist lifestyle. With its debut collection, Câpsula challenges conventional notions of luxury by offering “slow living” spaces that are thoughtful, elegant, and future-ready.
