Craft Your Future: A Discussion with Artist Craig Black

16 April 2020
Manchester

Join artist, designer and friend of Shillington Craig Black in a discussion about developing a career in the creative world!

In his talk, Craig tells the story of his career so far—spanning from professional football player to independent designer, sharing how it has shaped him and what he has learned along the way.

Craig dives deep into how he got his business up and running with no financial safety net. He speaks the truth about money worries and facing fear; remaining resilient and focused in achieving his dream, even in the toughest of times.

From passion projects to burnout and everything in between – Craig shares personal anecdotes on the challenges he has faced, overcoming imposter syndrome and giving back to his local community in the hope of inspiring fellow creatives to find what makes them happy and go achieve it!

Craig realised that to create the life that he wanted to live, he had to take charge and do it on his own. This progress in Craig's career has made him understand the importance of sharing his journey and the responsibility that he has to create social good with his work. Believing in this philosophy, a social enterprise called Creative Inverclyde was born. The aim of Creative Inverclyde is to utilise the creative sector as a nucleus for positive social change across Inverclyde and Scotland; where creativity, arts and culture meet economic regeneration through working together to create a better place to live and work.

Thursday 16 April, 6-7.30pm. UseSpace, Paddock Street, Manchester M12 6PN.
