Design Portfolio Review with Madeo Studio

Through June 2020

Madeo is a New York-based creative studio with a focus on social impact. During this time, many designers have been affected by the pandemic and to help out, Madeo is offering the creative community resume and portfolio reviews.

If you're currently working on your resume or portfolio, make sure to reach out to Madeo to connect with fellow designers and get recommendations. It's a great way to stay in touch with the creative community and to meet other designers.

Follow Madeo on Instagram and email them at hi@madeomedia.com with your resume and/or link to your portfolio with any questions you may have. They will be in touch with recommendations and a call on how you can work together.
