Design x Business

8 May 2019
London

The first ever Design x Business event, hosted by Shillington Manchester graduate Sam Walter and his friend and owner of Sonntag Studio Paul David Price, is coming—with the inaugural theme of Perspectives.

They'll be diving into the technicalities and challenges of starting, running and maintaining a design business. Joining them will be one young and one established design business to compare and contrast their experiences and perspectives.

Morwenna White-Thomson and James Kirkup, co-founders of Studio Beuro, will be joined by Sarah Drummond, co-founder of Snook, to give talks on their business journeys followed by a panel discussion moderated by Layer podcast host Antonio Pratas.

Design x Business are interested in sharing knowledge and building a community so get down early to meet some like minded people and make a few connections before the talks begin.

7.00–9.30pm on Wednesday 8 May at Islington Impact Hub.
