Doja Cat’s New Collaborator? Girls Who Code

Gender disparity in computing is an ongoing conversation, with daunting statistics showing that women in STEM are both underrepresented and underpaid. Many experts believe that reaching out to girls and encouraging them to pursue computer sciences at a young age could create significant change in the industry.

Recommended articles
https://www.adweek.com/brand-marketing/doja-cats-new-collaborator-girls-who-code/