Facebook Reacts to National Suicide Prevention and Awareness Month

Facebook is marking National Suicide Prevention and Awareness Month with two initiatives: limiting the distribution of content that does not violate its rules but trivializes themes around death, depression or suicide; and releasing a new toolkit to guide conversations about viral suicide challenges.

Recommended articles
https://www.adweek.com/media/facebook-reacts-to-national-suicide-prevention-and-awareness-month/