Role Details

Advertising is full of change that requires immediate responses to client needs. We are fortunately growing and need additional creatives to help service our clients. We are looking for a freelance graphic designer that is passionate about brand growth through highly-impactful visuals, has experience working with agencies, and can plug-n-play with our brand teams on various campaigns and projects.

We are looking for a graphic designer that possesses a strong sense of visual identity, marketing & advertising, publication, packaging, motion graphic, and environmental design. The ideal person would also be strong on executions that extend a brand seamlessly across multiple channels.

Ideally, we'd like to work with freelancers for the long haul because we believe that relationships are the key to creative excellence. We are also looking to bring fresh execution in the following domains: graphic art/photo, web/mobile, branding, and advertising. Currently, we are looking to fill in positions and balance the workload on brands that include a Top 100 Roofing Company, nationally-ranked Division I School, State of Texas, and our own agency.

If you're passionate about creating and curating ideas that are brought to life within campaign execution, please apply.

We’d love to hear from you.
