Framework’s Laptop 13 Pro launch event

Framework CEO Nirav Patel is showing off his company’s latest modular, repairable laptops in San Francisco today. The headliner is the new Laptop 13 Pro, which is its first machine fully machined out of aluminum, and Patel says its goal is to be “the MacBook Pro for Linux users.”

Read on below for all the updates from Framework’s April 2026 event.

https://www.theverge.com/gadgets/916168/framework-next-gen-laptop-13-pro-event