The life of a business leader or entrepreneur can be quite demanding and high stakes. When you're trying to build something or maintain its growth, you need to protect yourself from all possible hazards, even something as simple as your phone dying during an important meeting or sales opportunity. Do you have an easy and fast-charging solution in your workspace to prevent such a preventable issue?

To help you stay connected, you can get this Speedy Mag Wireless Charger for iPhone, which is on sale for just $39.99 (reg. $119) during our Presidents' Day sale. Its wireless design works with a solid, sleek, and slim charging base that you can rest your iPhone on for rapid charging to keep you juiced when you're holding that same phone up to your ear.

Despite its slim design, the charging base can be trusted to keep your phone securely on it with its strong magnetic absorption features. While it is capable, fast-moving, and affordable, this Speedy Mag Wireless Charger is also safe. It comes with built-in preventative features to stop your device from overcharging or overheating.

Entrepreneurs and business leaders, your time is your greatest asset. If you're not thinking ahead about ways to protect that time, even in as simple terms as having a reliable and transportable phone charger, then you're not giving yourself or your business the best odds of success. Turn that corner with this special deal.

Don’t miss your chance to get this Speedy Mag Wireless Charger for iPhone, which is on sale for just $39.99 (reg. $119) during our Presidents’ Day sale — a price that beats Walmart’s!
