Giambattista Valli: The backstage.

Our photographer Chiara Tiraboschi has been in Paris for the fashion show SS19 of Giambattista Valli. Here you can find some of the photos she took during the backstage, showing all the enthusiasm and the hard work they put to create a great show. Valli is famous for his elegance which is great and timeless. You can find his creations in a Red Carpet, perhaps in Venice during the Film Festival, but it could fit actually in any high-class situation. Giambattista started to work in 1988 and few years later his name was quickly connected to some big brands such as Fendi and Krizia. In 2005 he founded his own maison, producing clothes like ready to wear but also haute couture. Looking through the list of his clients there are stars such as Natalie Portman.
