Google Bans Bail Bond Services From Advertising on Its Platform

In a blog post on Monday, Google took a bite out of bail bond services. The company announced that starting in July, it will prohibiting ads from bail bond service companies across all of its platforms. “Studies show that for-profit bail bond providers make most of their revenue from communities of color and low income… http://www.adweek.com/digital/google-bans-bail-bond-services-from-advertising-on-its-platform/