Role Details

About us

HelloSelf is a fully funded BCorp on a mission to help everyone understand and experience their best self. We are building an online Therapy & LifeCoaching solution that not only gives you access to your specialist in a more convenient way but also helps you work out what life changes will work for you.

Why join us?

We’re right at the beginning of our journey in creating a world where we can all understand and experience our best Self. You can help us make this a reality. If you are looking to join a small, talented, high energy and inclusive team then this is the place to be. You will be given a real opportunity to grow quickly as a product centric technologist, working with some of the most exciting technology around with the support of some really great and experienced colleagues.

About the team

Working in Central London, you will be joining a small team of highly experienced developers with a passion for technology, people and building a great product. We work in a modern, sustainable way where our users' needs and goals help shape our vision and drive our product roadmap. We are a fun team to be a part of but we are focused, driven and work hard (after all, this is our passion and hopefully it will soon become yours too!) We believe in iterating and learning quickly, and understand the importance of keeping tech debt low and producing quality code.

About the role

We are looking for a designer to join the team to:

1. Own the brand look and feel

2. Design the UI of the site and apps
