4 hours ago
For the last seven weeks, we’ve been bringing you live editions of our video series I’m With the Brand, where founders and funders give us the scoop on how they built their brands. We’ve focused these live episodes on brands in the health and wellness space. (We’ll return to our regular schedule of produced episodes next month).

On today’s show, Ian Wishingrad has some rapid-fire questions for Lindsey Andrews, whose company Minibar Delivery is perfectly poised for the stay-at-home era.

Watch all episodes of I’m With the Brand, both prerecorded editions and live shows, here.
