Jury Opportunities Open for 2026 ADWEEK Awards

ADWEEK is putting out a call to nominate yourself or a colleague for one of our various 2026 awards juries.

You can complete the form below or access it here.

Industry leaders and experts across marketing, media, creative, and tech are eligible to be nominated as a juror. Serving as a juror is an opportunity to help recognize excellence in advertising, shape industry standards, and spotlight the most impactful work and talent of the year.

Candidates should bring deep subject matter expertise, a strong point of view, and a commitment to fair, thoughtful evaluation. Past industry awards judging experience is preferred.

Submissions are now being accepted, and interested parties are encouraged to nominate themselves or qualified peers.

Nominees selected for a jury will be notified at least three weeks prior to the judging period.
