There's an extensive body of research that shows high temperatures have a deleterious effect on productivity. With temperatures rising every year and heat waves sweeping across the nation throughout the summer, you have to take steps to ensure you're operating at 100 percent. That means finding a way to stay cool. We've rounded up some of the best deals on portable air conditioners on the web to help you stick in your comfort zone.

Rechargeable Handheld Air Conditioner

This no-frills, handheld device offers a fan, air conditioner, and humidifier in one easily rechargeable device. The portable device fits in your backpack, purse, or pocket and is easy to use. Just soak the internal sponge in water, place it in a freezer, and return it back to the device to have portable air all day.
