London Metropolitan Archives

Freelance Graphic Designer / Freelance / Paid
London UK

https://www.cityoflondon.gov.uk/things-to-do/history-and-heritage/london-metropolitan-archives

London Metropolitan Archives is recruiting a freelance graphic designer.

Role Details

London Metropolitan Archives is recruiting a freelance graphic designer with proven experience of designing for an LGBTQ+ audience to refresh the visual identity of its LGBTQ+ programmes. We are looking for something striking and stylish that will work coherently across print, digital, and social media.

We expect this will project take 6 days and a fee of £1500 will be paid on completion.

Please submit an expression of interest including your CV and a portfolio to Tom.furber@Cityoflondon.gov.uk by 9:00 am 21st September. Pitches will then take place by invitation week beginning 28th September. The project is to be delivered by 22nd October.

Skill/Attributes Required

Proven experience of designing for an LGBTQ+ audience and able to deliver the following elements:

• Logos for the different elements of the LGBTQ+ history programme
• A suite of publicity material for the 2020 History Conference that will then be used as a template for future conferences

• A suite of publicity material templates for our monthly events and workshops
• Editable templates for presentations
• InDesign files for use by our inhouse team

Apply/Respond by:
21/09/2020

Send: CV/Resume

tom.furber@cityoflondon.gov.uk

https://www.shillingtoneducation.com/blog/london-metropolitan-archives/