

Malika Favre #ILoveTheseGuys

The French illustrator Malika Favre creates lovely bold, colourful and seemingly simple illustrations. “Her bold, minimal style—often described as Pop Art meets OpArt—is a striking lesson in the use of positive/negative space and colour.”

Malika’s website is just as bold too. All illustrations are displayed in a masonry style display with hovers stating the title and client of the work. Each project has its own page with further images showing the work in full and various alternative applications.
