Papa John’s Founder Creates Website Begging Employees to Help Save ‘Our Life’s Work’

Papa John’s founder John Schnatter is making good on a promise not to go quietly from the chain he started in 1984 after abdicating the chairman role in the wake of reports that he used a racial slur and made racially insensitive comments on a media training call. Today, Schnatter took out a full-page ad… https://www.adweek.com/agencies/papa-johns-founder-creates-website-begging-employees-to-help-save-our-lifes-work/
