Robot Siblings Find Harmony in Škoda’s Ad for Its First Electric SUV

From the hero of 2008 Pixar classic WALL-E and beyond, cute robot characters have provided creative fuel for filmmakers and advertisers alike. Škoda, the Volkswagen-owned car brand, is the latest to imagine a charming world of artificial intelligence with its tale about two robot siblings who learn to overcome their differences.

Recommended articles
https://www.adweek.com/creativity/robot-siblings-find-harmony-in-skodas-ad-for-new-electric-car/