

The 2018 Winter Olympics: all the tech and updates from the world's biggest games in Pyeongchang

Contributors: Verge Staff

Image credit: Photo: Intel

The 2018 Winter Olympics have begun in Pyeongchang, South Korea, where athletes from 92 countries around the world will compete in over a hundred separate events for the gold. There's more to it than just the games though: there's the technology that brings the event to viewers across the world.

The games run from February 9th through February 25th; follow along for all of our coverage.

<https://www.theverge.com/2018/2/11/17001418/2018-winter-olympi> cs-pyeongchang-tech-updates-sports