

The best Labor Day deals you can already get

Labor Day may mark the unofficial end to summer and the beginning of the school year for many students, but it's also one of the last big sales weekends before the holiday shopping season ramps up ahead of Black Friday and Cyber Monday (and Amazon's next not-Prime Day event).

While Labor Day is still a few days away, most promotions run through the weekend in the lead-up to the holiday. And these days, when nearly every retailer runs a "Black Friday in (insert month here)," there are already deals available. Because what's the point of a set promotional period if you can't jump the gun to try and milk it for all it's worth?

We've been combing through all the Labor Day sales and promos in the world of tech and all things Verge-y and compiling a list of the best deals here. Not every item is on sale for its best price to date, but there are solid deals available on a range of quality devices and accessories you can't go wrong with.

Update August 31st, 5:11PM ET: Vetted pricing / availability and added a selection of newer deals, including those for the Samsung Galaxy S23 Plus and Bose Noise Cancelling Headphones 700.
