Twitter: How to Share a Tweet in a Fleet

Key Insights
Twitter rolled out Fleets earlier this week, its disappearing tweets that resemble posts on Instagram or Facebook Stories. With the Fleets feature, users can create new Fleets from scratch, and they can also share users' regular tweets (including their own) in Fleets. Our guide will show you how to share a normal tweet in a Fleet.

Note: These screenshots were captured in the Twitter application on iOS.

Step 1: Tap the share button under the tweet you wish to share in a Fleet.

Step 2: Tap “Share in a Fleet.”

Step 3: Twitter will assume you want to type your own sentiment about the Fleet, so it will open your device’s keyboard and show you a text entry field. You can now type something about the Fleet, but you’re not required to. Tap “Done” when you’re ready to move on.

Step 4: From there, you can continue editing your Fleet as normal. When you’re done, tap “Fleet” in the top-right corner of the post to share your Fleet.

Brandy Shaul

Recommended articles
https://www.adweek.com/digital/twitter-how-to-share-a-tweet-in-a-fleet/