Twitter Is Testing a Feature That Suggests Accounts for Users to Unfollow

Social networks continue the trend of urging their users to be less, well, social, as Twitter confirmed that it is testing a feature that suggests accounts people may want to unfollow. At the beginning of this month, Facebook and Instagram rolled out activity dashboards that let users know how much time they've spent on the… https://www.adweek.com/digital/twitter-is-testing-a-feature-that-suggests-accounts-for-users-to-unfollow/
