Unmortgage

UI / Graphic Designer

Full Time
London United Kingdom
https://unmortgage.com

You will be helping to craft Unmortgage look, you will be working closely with the head of product to implement this. It will be a job will vary from designing the welcome pack a homeowner receives when they move in through to online dashboards for our institutional partners.

Role Details

This job will be heavily weighted towards execution and shipping good product out the door. But there will be a fair share of more strategic design work, including feeding into UX and developing the brand toolkit across the entire brand experience.

We expect you to comfortable the Adobe Suite (or equivalent bitmap and vector tools). As you will be designing materials for one of peoples biggest life decisions this role requires real attention to detail. Experience in both digital (website/app) and print is essential. Any experience in a environment where you had to be a self-starter is a bonus.

You will be a core part of the Unmortgage product team and you will help us ship high quality, visually powerful materials and work across both sides of the business from mass-market consumer through to institutional sales.

Skill/Attributes Required

You should apply if:
– You are ready for the uphill battle and rollercoaster ride of startup life

– You have a strong eye for detail and are passionate about good design
– You have experience in visual design across digital and print media
– You want to get stuck in and own the visual execution of Unmortgage
– You want to help us be the first company to home 1 million families

Apply/Respond by: 30/11/2017

Send: Folio

We are based right next to Angel station in London. Our interview process consists of a 1 hour meeting with one or more of our co-founders. Followed up by a 1 day on-site where we see how things work with the rest of the team.

josef@unmortgage.com