Will Ferrell Belts Another Fleetwood Mac Tune in New PayPal Ad

Will Ferrell is back singing another off-key cover of a Fleetwood Mac song in the second installment of PayPal's biggest ad campaign to date.

This time, he's belting a version of the 1966 hit single "Go Your Own Way," but singing "pay" in place of "go." If you're rolling your eyes, so is the rest of the cast—all of whom also starred in the first spot, when Ferrell sang a PayPal-ified cover of "Everywhere."

As Ferrell flits through life paying for an eclectic mix of products with PayPal's "in-store, online and over time" payment options, the kids from the lemonade stand and the woman he stood in line with in the first ad are getting sick of his schtick.

Recommended videos
https://www.adweek.com/commerce/will-ferrell-belts-another-fleetwood-mac-tune-in-new-paypal-ad/