Your Uber Is Arriving, With a Vending Machine

In-car commerce company Cargo announced a partnership with mobile payment service Venmo that will let passengers buy items like snacks, gum, electronics, cosmetics and personal care items from the backseat of their Uber. Cargo says it is the exclusive global provider of in-car commerce for Uber, but a rep clarified drivers for any ride-hailing company… https://www.adweek.com/digital/your-uber-is-arriving-with-a-vending-machine/
